1791 Apl 9 John Henshaw, Clerk. Melton Mowbray

Written: - I hope them that find me will read this at the inquest that will be held over my body. That I have taken every penny back that I borrowed from Stephen Poching and Thomas Vorle, residing at Leicester; and I further pray that these two men carry me to the grave, and if they refuse they both be flogged until they do. Oh, my poor head! And after my funeral these two men be hung and their bodies burnt. I pray if they try to obtain my insurance money from my four boys-my mind, oh, it is gone. I hope no one will follow me to the grave, and that I be buried in a corner to myself; and that no service be read over me - only for them to pray for the Lord to have mercy upon my soul. And I pray that the coroner send this to those two men for a warning for them not to send four fatherless boys to the grave. And I also pray no one shall stand or stamp on my coffin. (Signed) Francis Smith, Langham Oakham.

1818 Dec 25 On Monday last, aged 62, Mrs. Ann Faulks, of Langham, Rutland. About three months ago as she was laying some sticks on fire, her clothes caught the flames, and no person being at home but her aged mother (who is 95 years age), she ran out into the yard all a blaze, and Mr. Stephen Messing, of Langham. who was passing at the moment, with all the humane promptness possible, by throwing her down succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any one came to his assistance; but the arms, breast, and neck of the unfortunate woman were so much burnt, that she scarcely got out of her room after the accident, and died from its effects on Monday last.

1819 Jan 8th Genteel RESIDENCE, LANGHAM [Not sure of the location], Rutland to be SOLD by AUCTION, By Mr. Beaver, At the George Inn, Oakham, on Saturday January, 1819, between the hours 8 and 5 in the afternoon, subject to such conditions sale as shall be then and there produced; A Modern built Genteel MESSUAGE, fit for immediate reception of respectable Family, and well-adapted for Hunting Box, being situate Langham, in the county Rutland, nearly in the centre of the Earl of Lonsdale's, the Duke Rutland's, and G. Osbaldeston. Esq.'s fox hounds. The Leeds mail and other coaches pass the garden daily. The house comprises, on the ground floor, two excellent parlours, large kitchen; scullery, cellar, dairy, pantry, brewhouse, and all other requisite Out offices; also six handsome chambers. There are also good Stabling, Coach-house, Pleasure and Kitchen Garden, and a Close adjoining, containing altogether nearly Three Acres. To be entered on 5th March, 1819. For further particulars apply to T.B. Rudkin, the 'owner, on the premises; if by letter, post paid.

During a heavy storm of thunder and rain last Sunday afternoon, the church of Carlby, five miles north-east of Stamford, was greatly damaged by a fireball, and the parishioners experienced a remarkable escape from personal injury. At the usual time for ringing in for afternoon service, the clerk went to the rectory-house, when the Minister (the Rev. T. Hurst) expressed a wish that the ringing should not begin till the tempest, which was then coming on in sable majesty, should have passed over. In consequence of this, most people remained in their houses, whilst the elemental strife of hail, rain, thunder, lightning, and wind, increased sublimely in the heavens. About five minutes past three o'clock, a dense cloud which hung over the church was observed to emit a ball of fire, which several persons who saw it described as being as large "as a peck measure." The descent of this body was accompanied with an explosion of such terrific loudness as seemed to shake every building in the parish to its foundation, and the alarm of the inhabitants was excited by it to the highest possible pitch. As soon as some degree of composure was restored, it was found that the electric matter had entered the steeple of the church at the window on the west side, and had from within struck the wall on the east side with such force as to knock out the stones for a very considerable distance; the fire then dropped into the church, through the roof - exploded in the church, as it is believed, the mischief done to the windows and many interior parts of the building being considerable - and then passed upwards again through the roof, at another place, driving down part of a contiguous side wall, tearing up and melting lead in an extraordinary way, and leaving the joists and rafters of the roof in flames, which were happily soon extinguished by the heavy rain that was falling at the time. The storm lasted for half an hour, and, as our respectable informant assures us, frightened the parish almost to death! One quarter of the spire of the church is ripped out, and the belfry is blocked up with the stones; so that a very serious expense of repairs will fall upon the inhabitants and proprietors in Carlby. Many stones from the steeple and parapets were hurled into the church; and, as the visitation occurred just at the time when, if the tempest had not been foreseen, the parishioners would have been nearly all assembled at divine service, their escape from destruction must be considered as most providential.

Sheep-stealing at Oakham : William Beaver, aged 25, was charged with stealing two ewes, the property of Mr Matthew Laxton, of Greetham; and Nicholas Beaver, his father, aged 60, with feloniously receiving the same.

The prosecutor occupies some land at Oakham, where the younger prisoner was his shepherd, and had the care of 45 lambs and 84 ewes. On the 14th of September last, he sent for the ewe's home, when two were missing. On being questioned about them, the prisoner said they had died of the "red water;" and upon being required by Mr. Laxton's Greetham shepherd to give up the skins, after some search he produced one skin from the hedge of a close adjoining his master's (but which was sworn by the shepherd, not to be the skin of his master's sheep), and gave the shepherd half a crown to take home to his master in lieu of the other, "that it might not be supposed he had lost one." — The sheep, together with one belonging to Mr. Sharpe Barfoot of Langham, were afterwards found upon the farm Mr. Joseph Bellaers of Langham, who proved that he had purchased them of Nicholas Beaver, for 36s. apiece, upon Preston hill, as he was driving them to Uppingham market in September last, about 9 o'clock in the morning: the elder prisoner (Mr. Bellaers said) was a sort of shepherd and had been in the habit of selling sheep for persons in that neighbourhood. — The Rev. Heneage Finch proved that the depositions of the two prisoners taken before him had been made without any promise or threat being held out and added "quite the contrary." — The Judge asked, what did you say to them, Sir? - The Rev. Gentleman replied, that he had cautioned them not to say anything to criminate themselves and warned them against entertaining any hope that such disclosure would be considered a mitigation of their offence. — The Judge: Then, Sir, excuse my advising you to avoid that practice in future: I know it is customary with many magistrates to caution prisoners not to criminate themselves, but in so doing exceed the bounds of their duty, and often defeat the ends of justice. It is sufficient for the magistrate to leave it to the prisoner's option; taking care not to hold out either threat or promise. — The three sheep were produced at the magistrate's; Wm. Beaver confessed that two of them were Mr. Laxton's, and one was Mr. Barfoot's; and that he had requested his father to sell them, - telling him that they were the property of Mr. Beedman of Braunston, who had entrusted them to him (Wm. Beaver) for sale; and that his father would find the sheep in Mr. Saddleworth's close (adjoining Mr. Laxton's.) — Nicholas Beaver's evidence confirmed the story of his son as to whose sheep they were and added that he (Nicholas) had driven them from Mr. Saddleworth's close and sold them to Mr. Bellaers, without knowing that they had been stolen; and that he had given the money they sold for to his son.

The Judge, in summing up, observed that it was certainly in favour of the father's innocence, that he had sold them on the public road in open day, and that the sheep were not driven by him from Laxton's close, because if the son had not wished to conceal from his father that they were Laxton's sheep, he might have had them driven at once from Laxton's close.

The Judge found Wm. Beaver guilty, and acquitted Nicholas.

The Judge said that sheep-stealing was, under any circumstances, a very serious crime, but in this case the prisoner's offence was aggravated by the fact of the sheep he had stolen being his master's property, — an aggravation which would fully justify the leaving him for execution. But there was a circumstance in the prisoner's case which would induce the learned Judge to recommend that his life should be spared, — that was, that his father had been charged with having feloniously received the stolen property; and although, added his Lordship, he has been very properly acquitted by the Jury, yet the verdict of Jury is a very different thing to one's own private opinion, and I have no doubt that he knew perfectly well that his son had stolen them. — It was under the feeling that the young man had been led away by the evil precepts and example of his father, that his Lordship would spare his life. The best thing he could do with him would be to separate him from his father, which he should do by advising that the prisoner be sent out of the country. — Sentence of death was then recorded against him.

There was another indictment against Nicholas Beaver, charging him with having stolen a sheep from Mr. S. Barfoot of Langham, with whom he lived as a shepherd; but from the evidence not being strong enough to warrant a conviction, the prosecution was abandoned.

Setting Fire to a Barn and Ricks at Langham : Against Robert Christian, aged 17, charged with setting fire to premises of Mr. Joseph Chamberlain at Langham on the 8th Sept, last, no true Bill. Before N.G. CLARKE, Esq., King's Counsel. Burglary at Langham. - William Bentham, aged 27, Thomas Tyers, aged 24, and James Bennet, aged 19, were indicted for burglariously breaking into the dwelling-house Mr. William Mantle, tailor and draper, of Langham, in the night of the 31st of October last, and stealing from his shop a large quantity of drapery goods, of the value of 15l and upwards. The door of the shop (which is a part of the dwelling house) was secured by the prosecutor about 9 o'clock on the night of the robbery, and between six and seven the next morning it was discovered that the shop window (which does not open, but is secured by two iron stanchions, sufficiently wide asunder to admit of a small person's forcing himself between them) had been completely demolished, and four shelves entirely cleared goods. Between one and two o'clock in the morning two men were seen to pass through the turnpike-gate leading to Cold Overton (which is also the nearest road from Langham to Leicester), by Mary Sewell, who resides near to it, and who opened her bed-room window and saw that the men had large packs upon their shoulders; in a few minutes they were followed by a third, also coming in the direction from Mantle's shop, who on perceiving that he was observed turned back — Thos. Thorpe, who lives a few yards on the other side of the gate, about the same hour saw a man leading a donkey through a gap in the witnesses' garden hedge, in order to avoid passing through the turnpike-gate. Between 12 and 1 o'clock the next day Tyers applied at the lodging-house of Mrs. Pitts, in Abbey Street, Leicester, very near to a place called the Rookery, for lodgings for himself and two others: he had with him two bundles and a new hat, and in about half an hour was joined by the other two prisoners, Bentham and Bennet. About 8 in the evening Bentham and Bennet were apprehended by three constables of Leicester, whilst leading two donkeys laden with goods towards the Rookery: a few minutes afterwards they apprehended Tyers at Mrs. Pitts's; but at the moment they were securing him, another man (no doubt an accomplice) rushed into the house and seizing the bundles which Tyers had taken with him made his escape with them. [Property to the amount of more than 30l was stolen from the prosecutor's shop, but he has not at present recovered above half of it.] — The goods found upon Bentham and Bennet were identified by the prosecutor, as was also a small book which was taken from the pocket Tyers: Bennet and Tyers were proved to have been drinking together at the Crown taproom in Oakham on the evening of the robbery, and Bentham was proved to have been at his brother's house at Oakham on the same evening. Bennet (a mere boy in appearance) in his defence, said that on the evening of the robbery he lent his ass to Bentham to go to Leicester, and that he went to Leicester the next day to fetch it back, when he was seized by the constables; whilst Bentham declared, that he had sold the donkey to Bennet. and that he followed Bennet to Leicester for the money; and Tyers protested that he had had no fellowship with either of the prisoners. The Jury found them all guilty. The Judge observed that they had been convicted of a capital offence of certainly an aggravated nature: he had, however, known nothing against them before that day; they were none of them very old; and perhaps if their lives were spared, and they were sent out of the kingdom, they might reform themselves, and make amends to the society of the country they would be sent to, for the injury they had done the society of this; but it would be great injustice to the inhabitants of this kingdom, ever to suffer such offenders to return to it — The prisoners immediately exclaimed, "Thank you, my Lord;" and Bentham, with an air of impudent hardihood, added, "I am very willing to leave this country; I hope I shall do better in another, for I have done very badly in this."

1826 Jun 9th Death - Langham, on Friday last, Mr. Thos. Hack, schoolmaster, aged 39.

1827 Aug 3rd Horse-stealing at Langham : William Smith, aged 20, the son of a respectable miller at Langham, with whom he was residing at the time of committing the offence, was convicted of stealing on the 19th of March last, a cart mare, of the value £20, the property of Mr. John Meadows, of Cold Overton, from a close in his occupation at Langham.

Wm. Faulkes, who shepherded for Mr. Meadows at Langham, proved that the mare was in the field at 6 o'clock on the evening of Monday the 19th of March, and that at 6 o'clock the next morning she was gone.

Mr. John Meadows, senior stated that in consequence of information he received from Mr. John Clark, of Helpston, he went that place about a week after his mare had been stolen and found her in that gentleman's possession: she was a cart mare, big with foal.

Edward Exton, the keeper of Hambleton tollbar, proved that a man rode through that bar about half past one in the morning of Tuesday the 20th of March on a heavy-looking horse.

Mr. John Clark, farmer, of Helpston. stated that about half-past six on the morning of the 20th the prisoner arrived at his house and wanted to buy some straw. Witness sold him a load: as they were going to the straw-stack, prisoner offered to sell his mare, and said that his father had sent him to sell her at Stamford fair, but that he could not succeed in disposing of her there: witness complained of his not taking better care of her and observed that she was not in a condition to sell, being very jaded and dirty. The prisoner accounted for her appearing so dirty, by saying that he had put her up at the Black Horse public-house in Scotgate, Stamford, and that she had been tying down without having had any litter under her. Witness bought her for £15, £7 in money, and a load of straw, which he valued at 8l. . and which the prisoner promised to fetch at the end of that week or the beginning of the following: he never fetched it. and the next Friday the witness saw an advertisement in the newspaper describing such a mare as having been stolen in consequence of which, he immediately wrote to Mr. Meadows, who went over and owned the mare. — In cross-examination by Mr. Miller (who kindly undertook the prisoner's defence gratuitously), the witness stated that he thought £15 was a fair price for the mare on that day, and that at his request the prisoner gave him a written memorandum of his name and residence, "William Smith, Langham." which proved to be his real address.

When Mr. Justice Holroyd was about to sum up. the prisoner's counsel suggested to his Lordship that there was nothing to prove that the prisoner's father had not delivered the mare to the son with orders to sell her - The learned Judge then re-stated the evidence, and remarked on the favourable circumstance for the prisoner that he had given his real name and address; if he had only received the mare her to have been stolen, he could not be convicted under this indictment; but the Jury would judge of the probability of the story he had told about his father's ordering him to sell the mare at Stamford fair, from the circumstance of her having been stolen after six o'clock on the Monday night, and sold the next morning at half past six.

The jury immediately found the prisoner guilty, and he was sentenced to be transported for life.

William was initially sent to the prison hulk "York" at Portsmouth arriving there on 17th Sept 1827. On the 7th November 1827 he departed Portsmouth for Tasmania on the convict ship the 'Marmion'. The 'Marmion' was one of twenty-five convict ships to sail in 1827, carried only male convicts. Her captain was Mr W Wright, the ship's surgeon was Henry G. Brock; four of the convicts died during the 120-day voyage. The ship arriving at Hobart, Tasmania on 6/7th March 1828.

Convict Record : Smith William convicted Rutland, ship Marmion, 27 July 1827 Life, transported for horse stealing Gaol report — Good Hulk report — Good Convicts gave their own short version of the offence on arrival. William said he was convicted for stealing a horse from the Pastures belonging to Mr Meadows of Cold Overton, he lived with his father, a miller and his mother in Langham. William said that he was single, a protestant and worked almost all his time for his father.

- 1838 Oct 19th To R.W. Baker. Esq., Cottesmore; W. Sharrad, Esq., Langham; and Mr. R. Smith, Burley, as a Deputation to me from S.E. Jones, Esq.
- Gentlemen, Do allow me to return you my sincere thanks for your visit to me on Monday last and to say how fully I appreciate the motives which impelled you to persuade me to leave the town, to preserve me (to use your own expression) from the Strong hold.
- I do assure you; I have during the last twelve months been so accustomed to intimidation, and (not to write harshly) to all the little trickery belonging to it, that the threat of an Exchequer or any other process, will not drive me from my Strong hold. I am, Gentlemen, Your's most respectfully, W.H. LAWRENCE - Oakham, Oct 17, 1838.
- 1839 Feb To the Editor of the Mercury - Sir, – it was stated in your paper of the 25 January that “Lord Barham last week sent £10 to the poor of Langham, which was distributed in coals.” This account is partially incorrect. It is true that Lord Barham gave £10 to the poor of Langham, but only £7 was distributed in the above-mentioned way: the remaining £3., it appears from the statement of the parishioners, was kept back by the Curate and a certain lady (scarcely known beyond the limits of the village, though there celebrated for her ladylike attachment to parish business), and appropriated by them to a different object, viz. The providing of a dinner for the children of the National School. This would have excited little displeasure amongst the inhabitants of Langham, had it been given to all who attended the school: but the individuals who thought fit thus to expend the money (no doubt, from very disinterested motives), confined the treat exclusively to those who were scholars in the church Sunday school, and withheld it from others who were connected with the Dissenting Chapels in the village, but who nevertheless regularly attend at the National School.
- Three little boys, after having been kept at their lessons until the dinner was placed on the table before them, were then sent home, being told by the humane and impartial persons who had the management, that they could not partake of the feast, because they did not go to church on the sabbath.
- This conduct, we are assured was contrary to the intentions of the noble Lord, who is well-known liberality towards the Dissenters gives no countenance to such practices. I may just state, also, that the Baptist and the Wesleyan congregations in the village, incensed at this illiberality, united to give a dinner and tea to the children of their respective schools, on Wednesday.
- Hoping that the exposure of this case will prevent its repetition, and that the time is not far distance when party feeling will not be permitted to violate the dictates of humanity and justice, I am, Sir, your's, &c., - [MF – Lord Barham became Earl Gainsborough in 1841]

The Earl and Countess of Gainsborough and suite arrived at the Bell Inn, Leicester, on Monday night last, and on Tuesday morning proceeded to Exton Park. Upon entering his estate about 4 miles south of Melton, his Lordship was met by a number of his tenantry and others from the adjacent villages of Pickwell, Whissendine, &c., And before they reach Langham they were joined by a great concourse of horse and foot (headed by a band of music), all anxious to testify their respect to the Noble Earl and Countess on the restoration of their family titles. At the schoolhouse, they were received by a deputation; and after they had alighted and examined the school and the children assembled, William Sharrad, Esq. Addressed the Noble Earl in a very impressive manner, to the following effect: –

“We, the inhabitants of Langham, and others intimately connected with its welfare, beg leave to approach your lordship with feelings of gratitude that our beloved Sovereign Queen Victoria has in her wisdom and love of justice restored the ancient titles of Gainsborough to your family. We, therefore, most respectfully approach, and address you as the Right Honourable Charles Noel, Earl of Gainsborough, Viscount Campden, and Baron of Ridlington, and sincerely congratulate your lordship upon that event, which has afforded so much satisfaction to the inhabitants of the County of Rutland. We especially wish to embrace the present opportunity of offering our heartfelt thanks for your great liberality and consideration in erecting this handsome and useful schoolhouse; and, in furtherance of its object, that your amiable and highly esteemed Countess has made those arrangements for the education of youth in this and other parishes which will serve the cause of morality, virtue, and religion. We trust that we are not taking too great a liberty in offering to your accomplished daughters our congratulations upon their acquisition of new titles.

Permit us likewise to felicitate your lordship and family upon the marriage of your son, the Viscount Campden. In conclusion we pray that her Most Gracious Majesty may long continue to uphold her exalted character, and reign as she now does in the hearts of her loyal subjects; and may the recorded virtues of the House of Gainsborough in former days be fully borne out by your lordship, its present representative, and also by your successes. May your generous and kind-hearted Countess continue to exercise those well directed acts of goodness and benevolence so universally acknowledged and duly appreciated. And may the Ladies Noel, now present, participate in those Christian feelings, as well as the absent branches of your family. In the names of the ladies and gentlemen assembled, and of those who from peculiar circumstances are unable to attend, we offer to your Lordship and Countess our unbound thanks for years the opportunity of expressing our sense of your continued kindness to the inhabitants of Langham and the County of Rutland.”

The Earl of Gainsborough replied in a very excellent speech, touching upon the several points of the address, assuring the assemblage that he had sincere gratification in offering his assistance and support to every institution in the County having for its object public good; and in reference more particularly to the building of this school, in which the Countess of Gainsborough had taken so much interest, he could add that he desired most cordially that it should be found to answer the expectation of its sanguine friends. The party then proceeded to Oakham, joined by hundreds of fresh pedestrians and equestrians.

On reaching the agricultural Hall, at the request of its officers the Earl and Countess alighted; and the great room being crowded almost to suffocation, Mr George Smith, on behalf of the members of the Society (of which is Lordship’s president), and on behalf of the town of Oakham, felicitated the Noble Earl on the honours which had reverted to himself and his progeny, in the following words: –

“My Lord, – As one of the officers connected with this building, I am requested by this assembled party to express their sincere pleasure at seeing you and your amiable family again among them, and to express their sincere gratification that the ancient titles of your house should have descended upon the head of one in every way so worthy to receive them. The return of a nobleman like yourself to this our little County, is at all times a gratifying event; but when he comes, like yourself loaded by his Sovereign with well-deserved honours, it enhances, if possible, the high respect and esteem in which your lordship is held, and adds to the many reasons we have for that esteem it would be presumptuous in me, my lord, to attempt to a numerate those reasons; but allow me to say that I hope the building just passed at Langham will stand for a long course of years as a proud monument of your Lordship's usefulness and liberality, and that ages yet unborn will have to bless you for the greatest all advantages, the means of learning the right way in which to steer through life. And again, my lord this very building in which I have the honour to address you has being greatly assisted by your fostering aid; and your Noble countess has condescended to work for hours in this very room to raise an edifice to be devoted to the use and benefit of Agriculture.

In fact, my lord I believe there is not a public institution in this county but what receives your benevolent and kind support. Then, if we pass from walls to Earth, and I am rightly informed, there is not a village on your lordship's estate but what has a portion of garden allotted to comfort and assist the poor and meritorious labourer. We are quite aware and actions like these bring their own reward, – far, very far superior to our humble but sincere praises, and transcending even the titles and honours we this day so cordially congratulate you upon receiving; but before I sit down, allow me to express one's sincere and core dual wish, in which, I am sure, everyone who hears me will join – that your lordship and amiable Countess, and your family, they very long continue to reside amongst others in the full possession of health and every other earthly blessing; and when it shall please God to deprive you of your temporal coronet, may give you 'Crown eternal in the heaven's.'

The Earl of Gainsborough, much affected by this address, assured the numerous assembly that it was his sincere wish, and that of his family, to merit the titles of nobility by a right application of the means of usefulness which Providence had placed in their hands to dispense.

Upon quitting the hall, the party received fresh reinforcements, and proceeded to Barnsdale Hill: here they were joined by others, so that by the time they reach the new entrance lodges many hundreds of horsemen lined the road, through which the carriage passed, flanked by thousands of persons on foot, to all of whom the noble Earl and the beloved Countess, as well as the Lady Louisa Noel bowed most affably and gracefully.

Upon arriving at the gates, the company took their leave, and the noble party entered their Home Park amidst the hearty cheers and the sincere good wishes of the people of Rutland, who had assembled from almost all parts. At this moment the bells of Exton were ringing and the band playing, and the loud roar of Canon announce the arrival at the gate, where they were received by Mr Parsons and Mr Pilkington, the architects, and the leading persons of the extensive buildings which the noble Earl is executing, and then by the steward of their estates, and were escorted by Park keepers and others to the house.– The schoolhouse at Langham has been lately built at a cost of £1200.

- 1843 May 3rd Alarm respecting the banks
 This part of England has experienced the climax of alarm and distress by the failure of a bank at Leicester - that of Messrs. Clark, Phillips, and Co. which is supposed to have out paper as the circulating medium in Leicestershire, Rutland, Northamptonshire, and part of Lincolnshire, to the amount of more than £150,000.
 As early as Monday the 17th instant, there were unpleasant rumours respecting the conduct of the firm, who were stated to have made large and injudicious advances to some persons who had failed, particularly one person in Leicestershire, to an extraordinary amount. A slight run upon the bank commenced in consequence on Tuesday, and continued until Friday evening the 21st, when it was found that it was not likely to cease.
 On Saturday morning, the following notification was placed in the window of the bank:-
 "Leicester and Leicestershire Bank - Messrs. Clarke, Mitchell, Phillips, and Smith regret to announce, that, in consequence of a sudden pressure caused by malicious rumours which have been industriously circulated, it has become necessary that a temporary suspension of the business of the bank should take place. The public may rest satisfied, that no individual can sustain any loss, and that arrangements will be made for rendering the inconvenience resulting from the present step of as short duration as possible. Leicester, April 22, 1843".
- 1843 May 3rd The agitation which this event has produced in a wide circuit of country is extreme, and has of course brought on a run to some extent upon several other banks. "Clarke and Phillips," it is well known, did more business than both the other Leicester banks put together. It was stated, on their first stopping payment, that they would reopen on Tuesday: then "Thursday or Saturday" was named. The delay, of course, has increased the panic, and all sorts of rumours are prevalent. "Clarke and Phillips" were Treasurers for nearly all sick clubs and benefit societies in the town and county of Leicester. The five pound notes have this week been sold at prices as low as 50s. Clarke and Phillips have branches at Lutterworth, Melton Mowbray, Uppingham, and Oakham. We regret to state, that the bank of Messrs. Goddard and Co. of market Harborough, stopped payment on Monday.

- 1844 Oct 4th The Earl and Countess of Gainsborough left Exton Hall Monday last for Gainsborough House, Cavendish-square, London, her Ladyship having to resume her waiting Queen (for month) on her Majesty's return from Scotland; after which the Earl and Countess purpose returning to Exton to entertain extensive circle of relatives and friends. During their late short sojourn of five weeks, they have displayed their usual liberality amongst the labouring classes and the school: all the poor villagers and labourers' wives, amounting 110, have been entertained with tea and plum cake in the afternoon, and strong ale. Last week the girls' school, amounting to 96 members, down the old hall to a sumptuous tea and cake entertainment, and afterwards rewards were distributed by the amiable Countess, according to the merit of respective scholars, three only being excluded for misconduct. The festival was opened and closed with hymns of praise to the Author and Giver of all things. Afterwards Boys' school entertained in the same way, the number for Exton and the adjoining parishes amounting to 115, & rewards were distributed as before. The same liberality has been also extended to her Ladyship's school at Langham. The whole of these Institutions supported solely by the Noble Countess, who takes the most lively interest them, devoting an hour every Sunday morning to the leading class girl's teaching, and in the evening strengthening them in gospel truths.

- 1848 Jun 16th The Whit Monday railway excursion train from Oakham, Stamford etc. to London was not very extensively patronised, probably owing to the unsettled state of the weather. Former grounds for complaint were not repeated and the passengers arrived in London in about six hours. In the return on Tuesday the managers of the railway showed a liberal and conciliating spirit: the day being stormy those passengers who had tickets for the open trucks were not compelled to travel in the exposed manner but were accommodated with covered third class carriages.
- 1848 Jun 23rd 1848 Oakham – This town on Friday last was a day of general mourning in consequence of the funeral of Lady Lucy Eleanor Lowther. The fine-tuned death bell in Oakham Church tolled from eleven until three and most of the shops were closed. Similar tokens of respect took place at Langham. The family were expected to arrive at Barleythorpe yesterday.

Died at Langham on Saturday last Mrs Mary Smith, widow aged 87.
- 1848 Oct 20th The superiority of Rutland ploughing has been demonstrated in Derbyshire the first prize at the recent Northmolton Agricultural Meeting having been awarded to Wm Bellairs, formerly of Langham, whose skill as a ploughman when a resident in his native county was frequently the subject of admiration at the Cottesmore meetings. Bellairs is in the employ of Mr Rt Smith of Exmoor Devon (formerly of Burley near Oakham) and he ploughed with an implement made by Mr Bird of Casterton. In the course of a speech made by Mr Smith at the Northmolton anniversary he said experience had taught him that the Rutland plough would be found highly useful in that part of the country.

- 1848 Nov 3rd Warning to Threshers and Farm Servants. During the past week Mr Bellamy of Langham, Rutland, has sustained the severe loss of five young and valuable horses, from their having eaten of wheat out of a field-barn. That they should have access thereto may appear surprising; we therefore subjoin the man Berry's account of his having unfastened a door which leads directly into the field where the horses were. He and his son had been threshing and were on the point of leaving for the night, when a rat ran out from behind some sheaves of wheat and escaped through the door: it was followed, and on their return, the man states, he fastened the door; immediately after which a second rat appeared, and ran in the same direction as the former, and this also was followed. The man does not recollect who was the last to re-enter the barn (egress being from the opposite side), but he says that he closed the door and inadvertently left it unbarred; and we may add that no circumstance has yet transpired which would justify us in doubting his statement, however much we may blame his negligence.
- 1848 Dec 1st At the 18th anniversary of Rutland Agricultural Contest. Among the awards were;-
 Class 18 To the owner of the best Heifer under 2 years and 6 months old £4 to Ann Woods of Langham.

 Francis Halburt 29 pleaded guilty to stealing a silk handkerchief – 21 days hard labour.
 Thos Brown 15 pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of horse hair and rags – 21 days and once whipped.
 Geo Louth 20 pleaded guilty to stealing a strike of barley – one day imprisonment.
 Wm Cobleby 20 pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of mutton – 12 months hard labour.
 Josiah Alfred Thorpe 28 pleaded guilty to stealing a smock-frock and a basket – nine months imprisonment.
 Thos Waldon 30 pleaded guilty to slaughtering and stealing part of a wether sheep the property of J.M. Wingfield Esq of Tickencote – 10 years transportation.
- 1849 Feb 23rd Langham – Joseph Cooper with one William Glen of Barleythorpe, entered the the Noel Arms Inn on Sunday night the 11th, and on being refused more drink, Cooper assaulted the landlord (Prideaux) and severely cut and bruised his head and one arm against the fire-grate; the medical attendant (Mr Dyer) pronounced him in danger for some days. Cooper was secured by the parish constable, who proceeded to hunt the immediate neighbourhood for a magistrate, but in vain; a wider cast was made, with cart and horse, chief constable of police etc. (a county expense!) and by night the ruffian was lodged in Oakham gaol: on the following Monday two acting magistrates attended, and finally committed him. Cooper has recently served a term in Leicester gaol for an assault upon a publican at Scalford; and he is one of those numerous “Rutland squatters” who have taken up their abode in the highways and by-ways with their horses, donkeys and dogs and share their neighbour's property by right.
- 1849 Feb 23rd Disturbing a Congregation – On Saturday the 17th inst. Stephen Meadows, Wm Wigginton, John Watson and Chas. Thorpe were summoned before the magistrate at Oakham, for going into the parish church of Langham and wilfully disturbing the clergyman the parish clerk and the singers, by howling, imitating the crying of a child, whistling and making other noises. The evidence showed that about 15 persons went into the church for the express purpose of making these noises, and the four summoned were the worst behaved. The clergyman did not press the case; and the magistrate, after admonishing them, gave them a fortnight for paying the expenses, as they pleaded poverty. If the case had been pressed, each of the offenders must have found two sureties in £50, or gone to gaol till the quarter sessions. The Act has made the penalty in these cases £20, or imprisonment till it be paid. It is a pity the magistrates have no power to impose a smaller fine.

- 1849 Mar 2nd Great Northern Railway extended to Grantham making a faster route to London than via Stamford with consequent loss of Stamford's business This loss attributed to the excessive demands of the Marquis of Exeter for £400 per acre for land not worth 1/5th this amount and building of a boundary park wall along his estate.

1850 Mar 1st Oakham - Amongst the 'Fashionable departures' from this town is that of the Rev. W.H. Hill one of the Curates of the Rev Heneage Finch. He disappeared with railway speed, to the dismay of sundry butchers, bakers, grocers and other tradesmen, as well as of some persons who had possessed a few spare pounds for loans. Mr Hill came to this part of the country from the remote county of Hereford. It is remarkable that in the useful annual publication called the 'Clergy list', he was last year called "the Rev W.H. Hall, Curate of Oakham".

1850 Aug The churchwardens of Langham have commenced an active subscription in aid of funds for the purchasing of an organ for the church. Though as long as the pews of the church are suffered to remain a disgrace to the beautiful edifice it is not to be expected that the parishioners will care about the organ.

1851 Jan 10th The Cottesmore hounds had a remarkably fine day's sport on Saturday last. The meet was at Langham and the first fox was found at Ranksborough after a smart burst he was killed at Little Dalby. The second fox was found at Cold Overton Park Wood, he went away at once for Lady Wood, then for Owston, to Launde, Robin-a-Tiptoe, touching on Tilton Wood on to Skeffington village, at the same top speed for Rolleston, away again for Noseley to Shankton Holt and the hounds ran into him at Ikston three gaters after a run of an hour and forty minutes which for good pace, good hunting and country (as was observed by two or three old sportsmen present) has not been equalled for some years. We understand that the present huntsman quite knows his business and gives much general satisfaction.

1851 Jan 24th Oakham Turnpike Road; Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the trustees appointed for carrying into execution an Act of Parliament passed in the thirty fifth year of his late Majesty King George Third which initiated "An Act for repairing, altering and improving the Road leading from the Great North Road in the town of Stamford through the town of Oakham to the Great North Road aforesaid at or near the house called the Cross Guns in the parish of Greetham in the county of Rutland" will be holden at the Crown Inn in Oakham aforesaid on Saturday the 25th day of January next at twelve o'clock at noon, for the purpose of revising and (if thought expedient) reducing from the first day of October next, certain of the Tolls payable at the several Turnpike Gates upon the said road.

Leicester - the World's Industrial Exhibition; A crowded meeting on Tuesday was told of railway companies' provisions for travel & accommodation to London for the exhibition. Midland railway would run cheap trains - at a penny per mile - so fares from Leicester and back would be 8s 6d. The agent calculated that a working man could go, return and board and lodge in London for four or six days at 30s to £2 and he would add 10s for sight seeing too.

1851 Apr 25th The organ now erected at the Parish Church of Langham will be opened on Sunday April 27th when two SERMONS will be preached in aid of defraying the Expenses of the organ. Services to commence at 11 and 3 - Mr. Fernley of Melton Mowbray will preside at the organ accompanied by a select Choir

1851 Aug 15th Small Allotment System in Rutland; The 22nd Annual examination of the small allotments upon the estates of the Earl of Gainsborough on the 29th & 30th ult. when prizes awarded by Mr Hawley of Oakham, Mr Burgess of Ridlington Park, Mr Rudkin of Langham Lodge, who kindly acted as judges. [NB locations mentioned were Uppingham, Ridlington, Whitwell, Exton, Bourne, Cottesmore but not Langham!].

The system of letting small allotments of land in Rutland was established by Richard Westbrook Baker Esq. of Cottesmore in 1830. "Each occupier has one rood and a half of land which is divided into three equal portions the cropping of which is explained in Rule 4" That the land be occupied in the following manner viz. one third (and no more) with potatoes, one third with cabbage peas beans onions carrots or any other green crop and the other third with wheat barley and any kind of grain "The rotation of cropping fixed upon divides the working operations and is found yearly to produce valuable commodities for the service of the family and keeps the land always in a proper state for a new tenant Mr Rudkin has acted as judge in the years 1834, 1836, 1837, 1839 and 1845.

- 1855 Feb 27th To the Editor of the Mercury.
 Sir,—I am a kind of “Citizen of the World,” and feel almost as much interest in one place as another, and pretty much interest in all. I take the liberty, therefore, of asking whether or not the inhabitants of Langham take any interest in anything? I happened to be in this part of Rutland last Sunday, and, as I take an interest in all churches, visited the one at Langham. It has a beautiful exterior for an old parish church, but imagine my surprise when I entered and found water descending from the roof, and extending over five or six pews in length, then running a short distance, and lastly forming a body of water in the middle isle of the church. On making enquiries of those who are acquainted with the strange fact, I have been informed that it has been in this state during six weeks, and what is more strange, that the proper persons have not even attempted to remedy it, but suffer it to continue in this dilapidated condition. Nor is this all, for I have been informed also, that the church clock has not worked during six weeks, and all through the negligence of those whose business it is to see that the church and clock are kept in proper repair. I think a person in office ought to have “mens sana in corpore sana.”<sup>1</sup> I enquired, at the commencement of my letter, if the inhabitants of Langham take any interest in anything? I may say I am glad to find that they are fully sensible of the unnecessary inconvenience to which they are exposed. I am, Sir, your’s obediently, A Traveller
- 1855 Apl 13 Rutland Petty Sessions, April 2, before J.M. Wingfield, Esq. (chairman). Sir G.J. Heathcote, Bart., M.P., J. Eagleton, Esq., and the Revs. J.H. Fludyer and J. West — John Pretty, farmer, of Empingham, was summoned by John Evelyn Clements, Exton, for non-payment of wages. Paid 10s and discharged.
 Wm. Mason, E. Cooper, and Wm. Brown, all of Oakham, were charged with assaulting Thos Dorman, toll-collector, Langham. The assault arose about a ticket, which they gave Dorman, dated 29th March, and it being a quarter to 1 o’clock on the 30th he refused to let them through until they paid the toll, which they did, and then demanded the ticket back. Dorman refused, when two of them got out of the cart and took it from him by force Mason and Cooper were fined £1 each, and 6s. costs: there being no evidence adduced against Brown, he was discharged. There was second charge against Mason and Cooper for assaulting Elizabeth the wife of Thos. Dorman, at the same time, but it was not entertained.
 Hugh Brown, sawyer, of South Luffenham, was convicted of assaulting his wife Ruth, and sentenced to one month’s hard labour. Ann Kirby and Jane Brown, of South Luffenham, were convicted of wilfully damaging a dead fence, the property of Mr. Jos. Cliffe, Pilton, and fined 7s 6d. each, including costs, or 14 days’ imprisonment. Allowed 10 days to pay the same.
 Thos. Sharpe, of Holywell, was charged by Sarah Cook, of Langham, with being the father of her bastard child. Complainant failing to prove her case, it was dismissed.
 Geo Meadows, Edw. Knight, John Mundy, and Wm. Gale, all of Langham, were charged by Joe Adcock with disturbing congregation of Wesleyan Methodists. Discharged with caution as to their future conduct.
- 1855 Jun 15th The opening of the Baptist Chapel at Langham on Thursday and Friday next is expected to prove very attractive. On each day the Hon and Rev Baptist Noel is announced to preach; the bazaar, containing more than a 1000 articles will doubtless produce much company on the Thursday.
 Religious Intolerance - Last week the Rev H. Whitley, Curate of Kingston, refused to bury the corpse of a child, aged two years, named John Luntley, son of Mr. Luntley, High Street Hereford, because he had not been baptised. On the refusal of the Rev gentleman to read the service, the Rev G. Cozens, Baptist minister, who was present offered to give an address at the grave. Permission to do so was, as might be expected, refused by the Curate. “It does not matter” said Mr Cozens "I will stand outside the wall, and give an address". Leaving 'Consecrated ground', he thus went out of the churchyard and, the coffin being placed on the wall, gave the address from an adjoining field. The coffin was then taken to the grave, and the father, with unfaltering voice, said "My dear boy, I commit thee to the ground in sure and certain hope of a resurrection to eternal life". And so he may the rites of "Christian burial" being refused not with standing. But here the question naturally arises, is this the law of the Church on the point. In reply to a letter on this subject in a similar case the Archbishop of Canterbury writes :- the Curate of your parish is obliged to bury with the usual forms the corpse of a dissenter, provided the church service be not objected to. Again not long since proceedings were taken in the Court of Arches against the Rev H Henslow Perpetual Curate of the Parish of Wormgay Norfolk who refused to bury the corpse of Sarah Bowden a parishioner who had not been baptised in the Established Church and the judgement pronounced in this case by Sir Hubert Jenner Fust was that the rev defendant be suspended from the ministry for three months.

1855 Jun 22nd Leicestershire Hunt - Langham near Oakham, Rutland - To be Let and may be entered in immediately, Langham House with Three Acres of Grassland, Pleasure and Kitchen Gardens, good Stabling, Coach House and all requisite offices. It is situated 4 miles from the Cottesmore Kennels and 8 miles from the Melton and is in the immediate vicinity of four packs of hounds. For further particulars apply to Mr Rudkin, Langham Lodge, the proprietor or to D.S. Royce auctioneer and general agent, Oakham.

A portion of Prince Albert's Own Leicestershire Cavalry and the Rutland Militia had a 'field day' in Exton Park on Weds last on which occasion the Earl of Gainsborough's extensive grounds presented a very gay appearance. The cavalry were under the command of Viscount Campden and the militia of the Hon Hy. Noel. The day being extremely favourable, the park was visited by considerable numbers of persons from the surrounding district. During the afternoon the progress made in Military Tactics by the men was severely tested, and the manner in which they went through the various evolutions elicited the approval of the officers; and the spectators generally seemed to take great interest in the proceedings particularly when the cavalry and infantry engaged in mimic battles near a wood. The exercise terminated at 4 o'clock after which the cavalry proceeded to the village of Exton to partake of a dinner at the expense of Lord Campden. It would seem that several chargers which took part in the field practice had not seen much action because at the discharge of the firearms they escaped from their riders and made off to distant parts of the park. Several of the "regulars" on recruiting service appeared at the ground in the new military uniform.

1855 Jun 29th The use of the Tread Wheel has been discontinued in the Lincoln City prison and such of the prisoners that know trades now work at their trades in their several cells. The earnings are carried to the credit of the prison so these prisoners now help to maintain themselves.

The chapel recently erected at Langham as a village station of the Baptist church at Oakham was opened for division worship on Thursday June 21st and following days. Three sermons were preached by the Hon. and Rev. Baptist Noel on Thursday and Friday; the Rev. J. Jenkinson preached on Sunday afternoon; and the Rev. J. T. Brown of Northampton in the evening.

The prayer was offered on Thursday by the Revs. J. Green, T. Gammidge, T. Lomas and B.W. Noel. A public meeting (over which Richard Harris Esq. Mayor of Leicester presided) was held on Thursday evening and was addressed by the Chairman and also by the Rev. T. Lomas of Leicester, the Rev. J.N. Robjohn (independent) of Wymondham, the Rev. R. Broomfield (Wesleyan) of Oakham and others.

A second public meeting was held on Friday evening at which addresses were delivered by the Rev. J. Jenkinson (chairman), the Rev. J. Salisbury, the Rev. T.M. Thorpe, the Rev. J.T. Brown and Messrs. Islip and Haymes. A bazaar in aid of the building fund was open on Thursday and Friday and public tea provided on both those days. The services were held in a large tent erected near the chapel. They were all numerously attended and deeply interesting. To the credit of the voluntary principle, the total receipts exceeded £138 in addition to nearly £150 previously contributed.

- 1859 Jul 15th Oakham County Court July 12th Before Sergeant Miller and a Jury.
Henry Hayes v John Henry Rudkin. - Plaintiff and defendant both reside in Langham, the former being also in the employ of Mr. Hauley, Merchant, of Oakham. The action was brought to recover damages for an assault committed on the 4th of April last when plaintiff had his leg broken from a fall caused by the defendant. Both parties are members of the Society of Nottingham Odd Fellows, held at the Noel Arms at Langham, of which society the plaintiff was and the defendant is secretary. The dispute arose upon the right of being admitted into the club room during "the making of a brother"; upon which occasion, for the purpose of expelling plaintiff, the defendant seized Hayes by the collar, threw him down, and thereby broke his leg. Apart from the serious result of the affair, much amusement was caused in court by the examination on the part of the defendant, of the "Royal Grand Imperial Highness, Father or Master" and other officials belonging to the society. After a Trial of three hours, the jury found a verdict for plaintiff, damages £20. Mr Atter appeared for the plaintiff and Mr Law for the defendant.
- 1859 Aug 26th Oakham - The annual meeting of the Commissioners for the letting by auction the tolls arising from the several gates from the first day of October next, for one year, at the Crown Inn Oakham. Richard Westbrook Baker in the chair the following were the lettings Stamford field Hambleton and Burley gates £326 being an advance over last year's letting of £96; the Cottesmore and Greetham gates were let for £120 being an advance of £50. These advanced resources of £96 enabled the Commissioners to order that 644 tons of Mountsorrel Granite be provided and deposited in the several parishes according to a table prepared on or before Sept 30th. The early harvest will afford ample time for the carting of materials upon roads before they become softened with the later rains and thereby prevent what was too frequently seen in the winter, heavy material carted over and spoiling one part of a road in order to mend the other.

- 1861 Jan 9th Rutland Churches No 15 N.Luffenham
- 1861 Feb 1st Death of Richard Westbrook Baker Esq. at his residence in Cottesmore on 30th Jan. For the lengthened period of 40 years this gentleman has been an occupier of land in the county of Rutland and during this period every solid improvement in agriculture has had his most earnest support and assistance. The system of small allotments for agricultural and other labouring poor has been rendered its greatest perfection in the county of Rutland where it was established 30 years ago by Mr. Baker. Descended from a family of considerable property in Newark in the 15c and about 1650 settled at Aylesbury, many became followers of Quaker (and imprisoned). William Baker MD, born 1721, married Miss Ann Leek whose son Richard, born 1762, was father of Richard Westbrook. Mr. Baker was Sheriff of Rutland in 1842.
- Note on cost of Pauperism:

- Report: A handsome silver inkstand was last week presented to Mrs. D.G. Freer of Langham House who has kindly presided at the organ for several years past at the parish church. The testimonial was confessedly on the part of the parishioners only a slight acknowledgment of the services she has rendered the church and of the gratification she afforded by her admirable playing upon the instrument, but there was a consciousness also that it would be received by the lady herself, not so much for its intrinsic value as for the feelings which prompted its presentation; and in this view they were not mistaken. The real reason was to acknowledge a grateful appreciation of Mrs. Freer's voluntary services and to show the esteem in which she herself is personally held throughout the village. The cheerfulness with which all subscribed showed how thoroughly the object of the testimonial was concurred in, and in the way which it was received by the lady herself proved the kind of value she at once set upon it.

1861 Jul 12 Rutland Assizes. Misdemeanour at Oakham Eliza Sharpe, 17, servant, pleaded guilty of concealing the birth of her male illegitimate child on the 24th of November, and was sentenced to three weeks in prison.

The facts of the case are these:- On the 28th of March last some men were employed by Mr Keal, surgeon, of Oakham to clean out a privy vault and while they were doing so they discovered the body of a child. The circumstance was reported to the police and suspicion falling on the servant girls in Mr Keal's employ, they were examined but nothing could be ascertained, and both girls denied having been delivered of a child. The body was examined and it was believed the child had been in the vault for some time. From what afterwards transpired suspicion strongly attached to servant Sharpe, and she was further examined by Mr Turner, a surgeon of Oakham. The result was that he was quite confident that she had been the mother of a child. He told her of his opinion, and said "it was of no use her denying it, for it would answer no purpose, and would make the case no better for her". The girl then began to cry, and from questions put by the surgeon she admitted having been delivered about Martlemass, and put the infant down the vault. She said she never heard it cry, nor saw it move; and no marks were found on the body to indicate that it had been murdered. In passing sentence the Judge strongly condemned the way in which the confession had been drawn from the girl, and said that a conversation so extorted was not according to the law; he hoped the hint would be a warning for the future to the gentleman, who, no doubt, was not acquainted with the law.

Mr. H. Hayes of Langham has an inpigged sow which this week measured 7ft 8in in length and 6ft 1½in in circumference. This sow has had 26 pigs in two litters of which 21 were reared.

Died at Langham on the 28th ult. George Sewell infant son of John Gale and on the 1st inst. Mr. Wm Turner formerly a farmer aged 45.

1861 Oct 11th The sow belonging to Mr. H. Hayes of Langham referred to in last week's Mercury farrowed on the 3rd inst. 16 pigs, 14 of which on Tuesday last were 'doing well'.

1861 Oct 18th Oakham Cattle Fair October 14th - The show of lambs was small and the demand not over brisk, the best sorts excepted, which found buyers at full prices : Mr. J. H. Rudkin of Langham Lodge sold 60 at 36s per head.

1861 Oct 25th At Langham on Friday last E. G. Baker Esq. gave a harvest festival to which all his employees (numbering 52) and several of the oldest inhabitants were invited, all of whom were regaled with a sumptuous repast of roast beef and plum pudding moistened with a copious supply of "nut brown ale" and other more costly beverages.

Mr. Baker addressed his guests at some length, in very appropriate terms, on the blessings bestowed by Divine Providence in the late beautiful harvest, on the blessings of peace under a good Government, the duty of employers and the employed, and on other topics. A very happy evening was spent by all. The interesting proceedings were brought to a close by all joining in singing the national anthem.

1862 Jan 3rd Rutland. The Christmas Bounty of the Earl of Gainsboro' :- His Lordship with the usual nobleness of character, which is beyond all praise, caused to be distributed by Mr Walton to the poor people and tradesmen of Exton on Christmas eve the second prize cow shown at Oakham cattle exhibition in class three and weighing 100 stones, a prize Scotch bullock of 50 st , 60 st of fine wheat flour, 300 lbs of plums and 100 gallons of the best ale from his Lordship's cellars. It was the noble Earl's wish that every poor person in Exton should have a good dinner of roast beef and plum pudding, the tradesmen had beef only. Lady Gainsboro' likewise gave away to every necessitous person blankets, bedding and clothing and in the winter months throughout the year to all the villagers soup twice a week. The same noble benefactress had distributed to the poor persons and widows of Langham, to the number of 42, a prime piece of beef and 3cwt of best hard coal. Other members of that good house gave the poor money, so that in every respect to the wants of this life they might enjoy the festive season.

Mr Baker, of the Langham brewery, totally suspended business on Monday the 23rd Inst. On the occasion of the funeral of the Prince Consort. On the following day 65 families were supplied with a prime piece of beef for their Christmas dinner by his request

Mr Lowther, of Barleythorpe, has this week given away to every poor person in the village a piece of beef or mutton, whichever they might prefer, of the best quality and in quantity according to the largeness of the family. Such generosity needs no comment.

1862 Jan 17th Noted that on Oct 22nd 1861 amongst judges of stock at the Agricultural Fete in Exton Park, the seat of Colonel Noel, was Mr Rudkin of Langham.

1862 Jul This morning a balloon was seen passing over Oakham in a north north eastern direction. The balloon had started from the Royal Observatory at Wolverhampton on scientific investigations and made a safe landing at Langham. In the rapid descent the two gentlemen were much shaken on meeting the ground. The highest height obtained was five miles. The instruments were much broken. [Henry Coxwell & Dr. James Glaisher]

- 1862 Jul 5th Oakham, Rutland. - To be sold by Auction by Mr T. Shuttlewood.
On Monday 8th July 1861 upon land situate on the Barleythorpe road near Oakham, the property of the Rev. H. Finch. - About 6 acres of Meadow Grass, to be taken off the land, which is of first rate quality, and an excellent crop. Two months credit will be given upon approved security. Sale to commence at three o'clock in the afternoon.
- 1862 Jul 12th Rutland Assizes. Misdemeanour at Oakham - Eliza Sharpe, 17, servant, pleaded guilty of concealing the birth of her male illegitimate child on the 24th of November, and was sentenced to three weeks in prison.
The facts of the case are these:- On the 28th of March last some men were employed by Mr Keal, surgeon, of Oakham to clean out a privy vault and while they were doing so they discovered the body of a child. The circumstance was reported to the police and suspicion falling on the servant girls in Mr Keal's employ, they were examined but nothing could be ascertained, and both girls denied having been delivered of a child. The body was examined and it was believed the child had been in the vault for some time. From what afterwards transpired suspicion strongly attached to servant Sharpe, and she was further examined by Mr Turner, a surgeon of Oakham. The result was that he was quite confident that she had been the mother of a child. He told her of his opinion, and said "it was of no use her denying it, for it would answer no purpose, and would make the case no better for her".
The girl then began to cry, and from questions put by the surgeon she admitted having been delivered about Martlemass, and put the infant down the vault. She said she never heard it cry, nor saw it move; and no marks were found on the body to indicate that it had been murdered. In passing sentence the Judge strongly condemned the way in which the confession had been drawn from the girl, and said that a conversation so extorted was not according to the law; he hoped the hint would be a warning for the future to the gentleman, who, no doubt, was not acquainted with the law.
- 1862 Aug 15 Died at Langham on the 9th inst., of phthisis, Sarah, widow of Wm. Roe, cottager, Age 51.
On Thursday the 7th the Earl of Gainsborough entertained his tenants, numbering 300 on the Rutland, Leicester and Nottingham Estates, to a dinner at Exton. A spacious marquee was erected near the Old Hall for the occasion. The repast was a most sumptuous one and consisted of fish, venison, roast beef, lamb, veal and ham, chicken and tongue, duck, etc. ; in fact all the delicacies of the season. The wines were excellent. The morning was wet and damp and in consequence the noble Earl did not dine, but immediately after dinner his lordship came and took the chair. Being in his 81st year he well deserved it... vice-presidents were Mr W.H. Baker of Cottesmore, Mr Wortley of Ridlington and Mr J. Swingler of Langham.
Cricket - Cottesmore and Langham
The conquering match, (each club have previously won 1 match), was played at the former place on the 9th inst.. (Owing to there not being time) the game was decided on the first innings in favour of Cottesmore. Cottesmore 106, Langham 76, - C. Stafford 3, H. Mott 4, C. Almond 0, W. Thorpe (not out) 13, Major Freer 9, S. Meadows 2, W. Clarke 1, E. Cunnington 16, W. Almond 0, J. Hubbard 5, Byes 12.

- 1869 Mar 26th The Rev. W.M. Colles, Vicar of Melton, preached at Langham on the evening of the 17th inst. His sermon, which treated of the different sects and religious bodies, was very effectively given. The Baptist chapel at Langham was on the 18th inst duly registered for solemnising marriages therein.

- 1870 May 14th On the 9th instant, man named Faulks, of Langham, carpenter, was working for Captain John Bailey, at Hambleton, when he fell from the steps of the granary, receiving some severe bruises. No bones are broken, and is reported by his medical attendant, Mr. S.C. Turner, to be going on well.
- 1871 Jan 6th The Hon. H. Coventry has caused seven tons of coals to distributed amongst the poor of Langham and is now giving away soup.
- 1872 May Mr Richard Sharpe previously a large occupier in the parish of Langham, emigrated to America in 1826. In his new home he amassed considerable wealth and died there. His eldest son Mr Richard Sharpe sent £200 from America to be applied to restoration of the parish church.
- 1872 May 25th LANGHAM CHURCH RESTORATION - All who are interested in Church restorations, and especially in that of the beautiful Parish Church of Langham, which has few equals in the villages of England, will be glad to know that there is now a fair prospect of the work being done.
- Some of the oldest inhabitants of Langham will remember that Mr Richard Sharpe, previously a large occupier in the parish, emigrated to America in 1826, and settled there with his wife and two sons, born in Langham.
- In his new home he amassed considerable wealth, and died there (as recorded on his first wife's tombstone in Langham churchyard) in September 1836. The inscription was placed on the stone by his eldest son, Mr Richard Sharpe, who visited the grave of his mother and the old home of his boyhood and family, in 1868; and in remembrance of his connection with the place, and from a desire that the church should be restored and be better suited for the solemn ordinances of holy worship, he has lately sent £200, entrusting it to the care of his relative, Mr Thomas Swingler, to be applied to that purpose. This offer was duly laid before the parishioners at their late Vestry meeting, and it remains now to determine how best it can be met, and the work done.
- The Vestry unanimously resolved – “That their best thanks and acknowledgements be given to Mr Sharpe for his very liberal offer, and that measures be taken by all the offices and friends of the Church to ascertain the feeling of the parishioners and neighbourhood towards commencing a general subscription for the same purpose.” And, in accordance with this resolution, no time will be lost by the Vicar and Churchwardens, and all those friends who are desirous of promoting so good an object.
- 1872 Dec 18th AGISTMENT for HORSES taken in Langham Cow Pastures for 6weeks, at 1/- per head and payable in advance with plenty of Keep and Water and Attendance provided. Apply Charles Hubbard, cattle dealer.
- 1873 Aug 8th Langham Church Restoration committee, consisting of the following noblemen and gentlemen, have been appointed the vestry of Langham for the purpose of carrying out the restoration of this parish church : The Earl of Lonsdale, the Marquis Exeter, Lord Aveland, the Hon. G.J. Noel, M.P., G.H. Finch, Esq., M.P., the Rev. J.H. Fludyer, the Rev Chancellor Wales, the Rev. Thomas Yard, the Rev. Mould (Vicar), the Rev. E.L. Home, the Rev. F. Sutton, the Rev. H.C. Johnston, Mr. T Swingler, Mr. T. Chapman. Mr. W.B. Sharrad, Mr. J.H. Rudkin, Mr. John Hubbard, Mr. John Smith. Mr. J. Williamson, jun., and Mr. Joseph Goodacre. This church is remarkable for its handsome exterior and beautiful steeple, and few village churches in England are so imposing in appearance and beautiful architecture. It will remembered that Mr. Sharpe, a native of the village, but now settled in North America, contributed some time ago towards its restoration ; the Earl of Lonsdale has also contributed £1000 towards the same object, and other subscriptions amounting to £225 have been promised. The sum required for the necessary repairs, re-building, and restoration has been roughly estimated by the architect at £2500, but to do all that is required will necessitate more. Every part of it requires restoration, and it proposed to restore its several parts as far as funds will allow. It hoped that the contract will be taken before the winter, so that the works may commenced early next year.

1882 Jan 3rd Rutland. The Christmas Bounty of the Earl of Gainsborough :-

His Lordship with the usual nobleness of character, which is beyond all praise, caused to be distributed by Mr Walton to the poor people and tradesmen of Exton on Christmas eve the second prize cow shown at Oakham cattle exhibition in class three and weighing 100 stones, a prize Scotch bullock of 50st , 60st of fine wheat flour, 300lbs of plums and 100 gallons of the best ale from his Lordship's cellars. It was the noble Earl's wish that every poor person in Exton should have a good dinner of roast beef and plum pudding, the tradesmen had beef only. Lady Gainsborough likewise gave away to every necessitous person blankets, bedding and clothing and in the winter months throughout the year to all the villagers soup twice a week. The same noble benefactress had distributed to the poor persons and widows of Langham, to the number of 42, a prime piece of beef and 3cwt of best hard coal. Other members of that good house gave the poor money, so that in every respect to the wants of this life they might enjoy the festive season.

Mr Baker, of the Langham brewery, totally suspended business on Monday the 23rd Inst. On the occasion of the funeral of the Prince Consort. On the following day 65 families were supplied with a prime piece of beef for their Christmas dinner by his request

Mr Lowther, of Barleythorpe, has this week given away to every poor person in the village a piece of beef or mutton, whichever they might prefer, of the best quality and in quantity according to the largeness of the family. Such generosity needs no comment.

- 1882 Jul 12th Rutland Assizes. Misdemeanour at Oakham - Eliza Sharpe, 17, servant, pleaded guilty of concealing the birth of her male illegitimate child on the 24th of November, and was sentenced to three weeks in prison.
The facts of the case are these:- On the 28th of March last some men were employed by Mr Keal, surgeon, of Oakham to clean out a privy vault and while they were doing so they discovered the body of a child. The circumstance was reported to the police and suspicion falling on the servant girls in Mr Keal's employ, they were examined but nothing could be ascertained, and both girls denied having been delivered of a child. The body was examined and it was believed the child had been in the vault for some time. From what afterwards transpired suspicion strongly attached to servant Sharpe, and she was further examined by Mr Turner, a surgeon of Oakham. The result was that he was quite confident that she had been the mother of a child. He told her of his opinion, and said "it was of no use her denying it, for it would answer no purpose, and would make the case no better for her".
- 1882 Jul 12th The girl then began to cry, and from questions put by the surgeon she admitted having been delivered about Martlemass, and put the infant down the vault. She said she never heard it cry, nor saw it move; and no marks were found on the body to indicate that it had been murdered. In passing sentence the Judge strongly condemned the way in which the confession had been drawn from the girl, and said that a conversation so extorted was not according to the law; he hoped the hint would be a warning for the future to the gentleman, who, no doubt, was not acquainted with the law.
- 1882 Aug 15th Died at Langham on the 9th inst., of phthisis, Sarah, widow of Wm. Roe, cottager, Age 51.
On Thursday the 7th the Earl of Gainsborough entertained his tenants, numbering 300 on the Rutland, Leicester and Nottingham Estates, to a dinner at Exton. A spacious marquee was erected near the Old Hall for the occasion. The repast was a most sumptuous one and consisted of fish, venison, roast beef, lamb, veal and ham, chicken and tongue, duck, etc. ; in fact all the delicacies of the season. The wines were excellent. The morning was wet and damp and in consequence the noble Earl did not dine, but immediately after dinner his lordship came and took the chair. Being in his 81st year he well deserved it... vice-presidents were Mr W.H. Baker of Cottesmore, Mr Wortley of Ridlington and Mr J. Swinger of Langham.

Session Reports Rutland - Oakham Jan 4th Before K.W. Conant (Chairman), W Wing, G.C.J Orme, R Tryan and J Hunt Esqs. and the Hon. WC Evans-Freke. The Court was at 10 o'clock but owing to the want of a Magistrate the business was not commenced until shortly before 11am.
William Hutchins alias William Hill, 32, painter, was indicted for stealing a mare, the property of Harriet Hayes at Langham, on the 23rd of September. The mare was missed from a field near Langham, and whilst inquires were being made after it, information was received by Chief Constable Keep at Oakham, that two men had been apprehended with a mare at Melton that morning with a mare in their possession which it was believed they had stolen. Mr Freckingham accompanied Mr Keep to Melton and identified the mare as that of Mrs Hayes which had been missed from the field. It was minus its tail. The two men with the mare were there-upon handed over to them, and the men were subsequently tried for stealing the animal, convicted and sentenced to imprisonment.
The prisoner, who it was learnt was also concerned in the robbery made his escape at the time, and was not apprehended until November last, when he was taken into custody at Stony Stratford, and on the 20th handed over to Chief Constable Keep. Whilst in custody he admitted that through want he had been induced to join the other men in stealing the mare, and added that as they were entering Melton with the animal he saw a policeman coming towards them and made off. He now denied having taken part in stealing the mare, but did not deny being with the two men who had been convicted of the offence. Prisoner was found guilty, and sentenced to two years hard labour, the CHAIRMAN remarking that horse stealing was a very serious offence and required severe punishment.

1884 Oct 24th Oakham Union At this meeting of the Rutland Sanitary Authority the following is part of report involving sewers read by Dr Moore. - I also visited Langham and inspected the sewage fallout, and I am of opinion that it creates a nuisance injurious to health. It is also contrary to the Act to pollute a water course. Mr Chapman assured me that beasts and sheep which drank water from the brook below the outfall suffered from scour, and that he had lost two beasts from this cause. Several people complained of the smell. I am therefore of opinion that some steps should be taken to purify the sewage before discharging it into the brook. The chief amount comes from the Brewery, but a considerable amount is also contributed by the village. After hearing the report it was resolved that the parish officers be required to clean out Langham brook within seven days or in default the work will be carried out by the Sanitary Authority and the cost charged to the parish.

1885 Jan 23rd Oakham Railway Accident - What is known as the "John Noble" night express from Bradford and Leeds to London on Saturday met with an extraordinary accident on the Midland railway near Ashwell. It seems that a wagon, laden with hay, was being taken across Bursnell's crossing when the wagon ran against a lamp post and stood fast on the line. It was only necessary to cut a stout rope to set the wagon free and clear the line but the waggoner refused to allow this to be done and prevented the crossing keeper using his knife to cut the rope. While the dispute was going on the express was heard approaching. The gatekeeper ran as fast as he could to stop the express by waving his red signal, but the driver failed to see it, the train dashed into the wagon at full speed, the wagon was broken into splinters and the great momentum fortunately threw the debris clear of the line. The engine was considerably damaged but beyond being alarmed and shaken the passengers were uninjured.

1885 Feb 6th Oakham - On Tuesday, in a run with the Cottesmore hounds from Ranksboro' Gorse with a second fox, Mrs Blair, of Ashwell, in taking the second fence from the Oakham turnpike, was thrown, and her habit being caught by the crutch of the saddle, was dragged across the field and seriously hurt. Mrs Blair was removed to Mrs Gray's Lodge near Langham, and on recovering consciousness, about 4 o'clock, was conveyed home. At the same fence Mrs Candy fell; three fields further on the Marchioness Cholmondeley was also down, and at one fence beyond Miss Gosling and two other ladies were unhorsed, and all without injury.

Oakham (Rutland) Petty sessions Feb 2nd before E.N Conant Esq, the Right Hon G Noel, the Hon WC Evans Freke, Major Orne and G.H Finch, A.J Fludyer, R.Trynn and W Wing Esqus. Among the cases: Ann Johnson of Langham, for stealing a linen sheet on the 7th Jan, was committed for 21 days hard labour.

- 1885 Jul 17th Oakham Fatal Accident - On Saturday an inquest was held at the Odd House Inn, Oakham, touching the death of Charles Henry Potter, groom, who was thrown from a horse that morning, sustaining fatal injuries. - George Underwood, groom to Mr. Gosling, said the horse had been with them about two months, but he did not know anything about its character. In the stable it was quiet enough. Deceased had said sometimes it was a bit fresh. Deceased was a pretty fair rider. - George Welsh, clerk, said he was going from Langham bridge to the cross roads, when he saw deceased riding a horse towards Ashwell. The horse was very restive. John Smith was with the witness. When about 10yds from the cross roads witness heard a horse galloping, and saw the horse without it rider, who was lying on the road. Witness caught the horse and led it on towards the man, who, he believed, was dead, as he did not move. Daniel Fitzjohn lifted deceased up: there was blood on his nose. - The Jury returned a verdict of "accidental death".

- 1890 Apl 25th* Extraordinary Suicide. — An inquest was held before W. Keal, Esq., coroner, at the Black Horse inn, Langham, on the 17th inst., on the body of Francis Hubbard Smith, dealer, aged 37. — Sarah Allen Smith identified the body her husband. On 2nd April he left her, and she did not know where he went to. - She asked him what was the matter. He said she should know by other people, not by him. The pocket-book produced contained his handwriting. — Henry Edgson, cottager, said 5:30 that morning as was going milking he met Mr. Sewell, who said, "I want you, for I believe there is a dead man the road". When they got to the spot they lifted deceased's head. Deceased lay with his face flat the ground and his walking stick underneath him. Witness said "It is Frank Smith," and sent the boy for the constable, and stopped till he came — Sergeant Wilson said: "This morning I received information that deceased was lying in the road leading from Oakham to Melton. I at once went, and found deceased lying with his face downwards. The hands were clenched and full of soil and grass. I searched the body, and in the breast-pocket found a pocket-book, in which was some writing, signed by deceased. There were besides a pocket-knife, 3d. in bronze, and a used up cheque book. I then went to a haystack about 150 yards off where someone had evidently been lying down. A man named Cox picked up in my presence bottle (produced), which contained sediment of blue colour. The bottle was empty and about two yards from the stack. I then brought deceased home," in the pocket-book was written:— I hope them that find me will read this at the inquest that will be held over body. That I have taken every penny back that I borrowed from Stephen Pochin and Thomas Vorle, residing at Leicester; and I further pray that these two men carry me to the grave, and if they refuse they both flogged till they go. Oh, my poor head! And after funeral these two men be hung, and their bodies burnt. I pray if they try to obtain my insurance money from my four boys—my mind, oh, it is gone. I hope no one will follow me to the grave, and that I buried in a corner to myself; and that no service be read over me—only for them to pray for the Lord to have mercy on soul. And I pray that the coroner send this to those two men for a warning for them not to send four fatherless boys to the grave. And I also pray that no one shall stand or stamp on my coffin. (Signed) Francis Smith, Langham, Oakham. Mr. Papillon, surgeon, said the contracted state of the deceased's hands and the muscles of the neck suggested strychnine poisoning.—The jury returned a verdict of “suicide during temporary insanity.” (Signed) FRANCIS SMITH, Langham Oakham.

1891 Oct 23rd Elijah Sewell, age 21 of Langham fell from a tree 6 or 7 feet and fractured his spine. He was admitted to the Stamford Infirmary.

1892 Feb 25th ALLEGED ADVERTISING FRAUD. THE PRIZE SYSTEM. PROCEEDINGS AT ABERGAVENNY. At the Abergavenny police-court on Wednesday Col Wheeley presiding) James Royce, alias Pain 48 Lidford road, St Peter's park, London was brought up on remand with obtaining money by false pretences from Herbert Dunn, schoolmaster, Abergavenny. - Mr Iltyd Gardner again appeared for the prosecutor and Mr Luther Davis for the prisoner. The case had been adjourned for a week from the previous court so that further enquiries into the case could be made. Mr Gardner said that he had got a considerable amount of evidence together which would justify the Bench in committing prisoner for trial on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences and for obtaining money by fraud through a trick. He called George Herbert Dunn, who said he was a schoolmaster at Llanfoist and lived at Abergavenny. On 30th December last he saw an advertisement in Comic Cuts (produced) which stated prizes of £25, £10, £5 and twenty prizes of 10s each would be given to those who made the greatest number of words out of the word “Competition.” The entrance fee was 1s 6d, and competitions were to be sent to F Pain, 48, Lidford-road, St Peter's Park, London. A stamped addressed envelope was to be enclosed. The result would be sent a week later He (Mr Dunn) prepared 198 words out of the word “Competition, and forwarded the list, together with eighteen-penny stamps and a stamped-addressed envelope and post-card, in a registered letter to the address advertised. In the course of a post he received the post card (produced) stating that the dictionary which would be used in checking the list would be Webster's. He did not receive the result of the competition on the 12th of January, and on the 14th wrote to that effect to the prisoner, and enclosed another addressed envelope asking him to send the result by return of post. No notice being taken of that letter, he wrote on the 16th to the effect that unless he received the result on the Monday following he should take proceedings. On the following Tuesday he received a letter, signed by T. H. Knight, saying that he had been receiving letters for F. Pain and that he had gone away, and he had not seen him for a week, but as soon as he found out where he was he would let prosecutor know. That letter was in prisoner's own handwriting, and the postcard was written by prisoner's wife. He (Mr Dunn) subsequently took out a warrant.—Inspector Daniel Morgan, of the Metropolitan Police, said that on the 12th of this month he received a warrant for the arrest of a person described as F Pain and on the same evening he went to 48, Lidford-road, a small private house, and found that the accused occupied a room on the top floor as a living room. In answer to enquiries, he said he had been receiving letters for a person named F Pain. He afterwards made a statement which witness took down in writing and which was as follows “My name is James Royce, I am a butcher and am now out of employment. I know a man named Frank Pain, a butcher. He is called Charlie. We worked together at 47, Jermyn street about 2 years. About two months ago he asked me to receive letters for him, and I did so. I believe I had about 40 or more. I gave them to him in the street. He has called here a few times. My wife may have seen him. I do not know where he resides or where he works and I don't know where to find him or any of his relatives. The last time I heard of or from him was about six weeks ago. I never passed by the name of Pain. I had nothing for receiving the letters. I did not know what the letters referred to until he had the last, when he told me it was a competition. Pain never came further than the door. My father in law Mr Knight never acknowledged any post-cards or letters for Pain and I never sent one in connection with Pain's affairs.” He said the statement was true and signed it “James Royce” in witness presence. Witness then arrested him as F. Pain and took him to Harrow road police station. He made further enquiries the same night and told him that he had found that his story as regarded Pain was not true and that the correspondence carried on in the name of Pain was carried on by himself (Royce) his wife and brother in law T H Knight. In reply Royce said ‘I don't intend to stand to this, I will have my brother in law Tom, found. He is as bad as I am and got more out of it than I did. They have rounded on me, I thought it would come out. It is quite true what my father in-law said.' There is no person named Pain in the affair. It was my wife's brother Tom." He said that in the presence of his wife the following morning. She said, "you must leave Tom out. He was in the house when the inspector called today and he has now absconded." Witness had seen them both write, produced specimens of their handwriting which he had compared and he thought that the letter signed by Knight was in the handwriting of the prisoner, and the postcard in that of the wife. He searched the house but found nothing relating to the charge.

Sergt Davies's evidence which was given last week was read over and confirmed by him – Mr Gardener submitted that there was sufficient prima facie evidence on which to commit the prisoner for trial. – Mr Davis applied for bail, and said that the accused father Mr Edwin Royce of Langham, Rutland, who was a highly respectable man and a guardian of the poor, was willing to act as surety. – After a retirement of about 10 minutes the Bench committed the prisoner for trial at the next Quarter Sessions in April next, bail being allowed, himself in the sum of £ 100 and his father in a similar sum. Prisoner, who is of gentlemanly appearance and about 25 years of age then left the dock and joined his wife and father who were in the court.

1895 Jun 15th DEATH OF A NATIVE OF LANGHAM IN AMERICA. – The Wilkes Barré Times, of Monday, April 22nd, contains the following account of the death, in that city, of Mr Richard Sharpe, a native of Langham, and a cousin of Mr Thomas Swingler, of Langham :— "Richard Sharpe, one of the old residents of the city, died at his residence 25, West River Street, at eleven o'clock last (Sunday) night, after an illness of about two months. In the death of Richard Sharpe, whose spirit passed peacefully to its eternal home on the evening of Sunday last, our community loses one of its most philanthropic and useful citizens. He was a son of Richard and Mary S Sharpe, and was born at Langham, Rutlandshire, England, on April 10, 1813. In the fall of 1826 he came to this country with his father, step-mother, and his brother William. In 1847 he was married to Sally Paterson, daughter of Thomas Patterson, of Londonderry, Ireland, and Mary Dennison, daughter of Col. Nathan Dennison, of this valley. Early called to labour for the support of those dear to him, his career has been characterised by unflinching fidelity, integrity, and persistent effort. The success achieved has been the result of those qualities of mind and heart which mark the Christian gentleman. For many years he has been prominently connected with the mining industry of the anthracite coal region. Among his partners have been Francis Weiss, George Belford, John Leiseuring, John Courtwright, and Asa Foster. At the time of his death he was the president of the Alden Coal Company. He was helpful in the establishment of all charitable institutions of this city and responded generously to many of the calls both at home and abroad for aid in missionary and Christian work.

Simple in his tastes, and humble in his walk with God, he preferred that his benefactions should not be made public. Baptised in infancy in the Church of England, he has for long years been a faithful communicant of the Protestant Church and was at the time of his decease one of the wardens of St Stephens Church in this city. The faith of his childhood faulted not amid the trials of a long and laborious life and sustained the departing spirit with the hope that maketh not ashamed. His departure is a coronation, not a defeat – a life perfected.” The funeral took place on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 24th, the interment being in the Hollenbach Cemetery. Mr Sharpe visited his cousin, Mr Swingler, at Langham, in 1868, and suggested at the time that his native Church should be restored, and soon after his return to America he forwarded £200 to Mr Swingler for that purpose, and £20 in addition for the pulpit.

- 1900 Jan 5th Oakham Police - Serious assault case - Frank Fisher, labourer, Langham, was charged with assaulting on the highway at Langham, Mrs Ninis, on Dec 18th. Complainant said on the 15th Dec she lost a canary and having heard that Fisher had found it she went to his house for it and his wife let her have the bird. On her way home she met the accused, who wanted the bird back again, saying it was his bird. She refused to let him have it, when he caught hold of her arm and tried to take it from her. He kicked at her and refuse to let her go.
- H. E. Wells, labourer, said on the evening of the above day he was in his house, and hearing someone scream he went out to see what was the matter. He found the accused had hold of the complainant and would not let her go and witness took hold of defendant by the throat and got him away.
- Rev. R. Ninis said about 7.40 he was in the schoolroom at Langham when his wife came into the room. Defendant was holding his wife by the arm. He pushed the man off her and threatened to knock him down if he did not let her alone.
- Defendant said he caught the bird in a wild state and took it home and wished to keep it until the rightful owner turned up and he told his wife to detain the bird until they had seen him. It was not his intention to assault Mrs Ninis and he was very sorry it had happened.
- The Bench considered it a most severe and disgraceful assault and sentenced Fisher to six weeks hard labour. Fisher was further charged with drunken and disorderly behaviour in the same evening on the highway at Langham and was sentenced to a further term of seven days hard labour.

Bible Society.—The annual meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society was held in the School-room on Tuesday evening last. There was a good attendance. The Rev. F. Baggallay, M.A., R.D., Vicar of the parish, took the chair. The meeting was addressed E. Bryant, late missionary in China, and he was listened to with interest.' Mr. Hay, secretary, gave the particulars of receipts and expenditure, from which it appeared that Langham was not behindhand in supporting this exceedingly useful Society.

A Langham Man's Experiences at the Front.— Mr. Edwin Royce, of Langham, has received the following letter from his son, Private Herbert Royce, written at Heilbron " You may think it hard of me for not writing before, but I have not had the least possible chance. I have not received letters or sent any away since April. We have been fighting more or less every day since then. We first went to Hoopstadt, then on Bothaville then to Kroonstadt, where they told us that the war was over. Two days later we had a fearful battle on June 1st, going on to Lindley, and were led within five hundred yards of the enemy, who poured a hail of bullets into us. We had to retire for about a thousand yards, and dismount, and fire until we drove them back, which lasted about three hours. We then advanced, but by this time they had occupied another ridge. We were then again led into another death-trap, where we lost several men. By this time it was dark, and we took the town. The next day we fought again, where I had my horse shot: the engagement lasted all day. That was the last day's fighting I had with Lord Methuen. Half of the Berks. Yeomanry then had to with General Paget as he was short of mounted men, so you could not tell by the papers where I was. We have been scattered all over the place. We then stayed at Lindley for three weeks. During that time we were shelled day and night, and almost starved, as we were completely surrounded. We had two biscuits day for about a fortnight, until reinforcements came and relieved us. We then drove them back to Bethlehem, which was hard fighting, for five days and nights. It is a wonder any of the mounted troops are alive. Shell after shell came in amongst us. but did not burst, besides heavy rifle fire. The next day we halted to give the horses rest, but the order came for us Berks to saddle up and the Australians and two guns to out eight miles out and mend the telegraph wire which had been cut. We got about seven miles, when they fired at us from a kopje. The officer in charge told us to dismount and fire. We then had to advance in a most fearful fire, under cover of the two big guns which were on our right flank. Out of the forty-five men that were sent eleven men had to hold horses, which left only three to advance. We got within six hundred yards of the kopie, when the officer told to fix bayonets and charge. We advanced again and got within two hundred yards, when the twelve men on my right-hand were shot down. I expected the same fate every minute. I lay down in a bunch of long grass and they ploughed the ground up around me with bullets. I remained there for about fifteen minutes, which seemed like hours, waiting for the order to advance and charge, but found that the officer had been shot. We were then a fix. In the meantime the two guns had come back again, which left us to the mercy of the Boers. They called to the rest of us for hands up, but we were not having any. The order was then sent up for us to retire which was no easy matter but we got up and back to our horses a mile away under a very heavy cross-fire. The next day the whole force marched and drove back into the mountains on the way to Senckal. We were then attached to General Hunter, and fought our way to Friesburg, where we re-captured the six hundred prisoners who were taken at Lindley. I was next attached to General Clements. A few days after that, we surrounded them, and surrendered with all his men. Two days afterwards we had go with General .Macdonald, when we surrounded another lot, and took two thousand prisoners. We then marched back to Bethlehem, half-way back to Kroustadt, where we were going to a fresh rig-out, but order came that to go to Heilbron. where the Boers were. We had one days fighting coming in. We have been here two days, and expect a battle every day, but I hear we are going to stay here for a week to give the horses and men a rest, and to get new clothes. The men are in a fearful plight: they are even riding on the saddle with their bare flesh. We have hardly got a rag to our back.

I thought when I wrote home last that I should have been in England by now, but may last for another three months: I shall think myself lucky if reach home by Christmas. If you have written a letter every week I shall have quite a bundle. I have been looking forward for a letter for a long time from you, but have been unable to get the letters up. We do not get any news whatever. It has been a frightfully cold winter: the blankets are white and stiff with frost every morning. Next month the rainy season starts. We have not slept under tent for the last four months. I hope they will try and get them up country before it starts. It is no fun sleeping out wet nights with only two blankets. I expect this time you are the middle of hay-making. The ploughed land out here has not been touched this year. I don't know what they are going to do. One of the Boer prisoners told me it would ruin half of them. I must now draw to a close, as they are going to try and get a mail through to-day. I could write a book, if had time.

- 1916 Mar 17th OAKHAM POUND DAY AT THE COTTAGE HOSPITAL - “Pound Day” was held on Saturday last, and proved a great success. Usually held in alternate years, it was postponed last year on account of the war, but the gratifying response which the the appeal of the committee met with on the present occasion fully justified its resuscitation. £22 10s in cash was received (which included several pounds weight in copper); also 240 eggs, three sacks of potatoes, 5lbs of tea, 12lbs of butter and quantities of vegetables and fruit, provisions, and household requisites. Contributions were received from Ashwell, Barleythorpe, Braunstone, Brooke, Burley, Cold Overton, Cottesmore, Exton, Eggleton, Edmonthorpe, Halleton, Langham, Lyndon, Manton, Ridlington, Teigh, Wymondon, Whissendine, Whitwell and Wing, as well as Uppingham and Oakham. The committee desire to specially thank the ladies who canvassed the villages and all who contributed.
