Alarm respecting the banks

This part of England has experienced the climax of alarm and distress by the failure of a bank at Leicester - that of Messrs. Clark, Phillips, and Co. which is supposed to have out paper as the circulating medium in Leicestershire, Rutland, Northamptonshire, and part of Lincolnshire, to the amount of more than £150,000.

As early as Monday the 17th instant, there were unpleasant rumours respecting the conduct of the firm, who were stated to have made large and injudicious advances to some persons who had failed, particularly one person in Leicestershire, to an extraordinary amount. A slight run upon the bank commenced in consequence on Tuesday, and continued until Friday evening the 21st, when it was found that it was not likely to cease.

On Saturday morning, the following notification was placed in the window of the bank:- "Leicester and Leicestershire Bank - Messrs. Clarke, Mitchell, Phillips, and Smith regret to announce, that, in consequence of a sudden pressure caused by malicious rumours which have been industriously circulated, it has become necessary that a temporary suspension of the business of the bank should take place. The public may rest satisfied, that no individual can sustain any loss, and that arrangements will be made for rendering the inconvenience resulting from the present step of as short duration as possible. Leicester, April 22, 1843".

The agitation which this event has produced in a wide circuit of country is extreme, and has of course brought on a run to some extent upon several other banks. "Clarke and Phillips," it is well known, did more business than both the other Leicester banks put together. It was stated, on their first stopping payment, that they would reopen on Tuesday: then "Thursday or Saturday" was named. The delay, of course, has increased the panic, and all sorts of rumours are prevalent. "Clarke and Phillips" were Treasurers for nearly all sick clubs and benefit societies in the town and county of Leicester. The five pound notes have this week been sold at prices as low as 50s. Clarke and Phillips have branches at Lutterworth, Melton Mowbray, Uppingham, and Oakham. We regret to state, that the bank of Messrs. Goddard and Co. of market Harborough, stopped payment on Monday. - Stamford Mercury.

- Apr 21st Died at Langham on the 14th inst much respected Mr T Shuttlewood formerly for many years an eminent butcher at Oakham, aged 61.
- Jun 16th The Whit Monday railway excursion train from Oakham, Stamford etc. to London was not very extensively patronised, probably owing to the unsettled state of the weather. Former grounds for complaint were not repeated and the passengers arrived in London in about six hours. In the return on Tuesday the managers of the railway showed a liberal and conciliating spirit: the day being stormy those passengers who had tickets for the open trucks were not compelled to travel in the exposed manner but were accommodated with covered third class carriages.
- Jun 23rd Oakham – This town on Friday last was a day of general mourning in consequence of the funeral of Lady Lucy Eleanor Lowther. The fine-tuned death bell in Oakham Church tolled from eleven until three and most of the shops were closed. Similar tokens of respect took place at Langham. The family were expected to arrive at Barleythorpe yesterday.
- Jul 7th Died at Langham on the 24th ult. Mary wife of Hy. Beaver labourer aged 74
- Jul 28th Died at Langham on the 16th inst. Mr John Spreckley miller eldest son of Mr Prideaux of the Noel Arms inn. He was a member of the Gainsboro' Lodge of the Nottingham Union of Odd Fellows and his remains were followed to the grave by a number of the brethren.

Married at Langham on the 21st inst (by the Rev H Hayton) Mr George Ellingworth of Oakham to Miss Ann Hubbard of the former place.
- Oct 15th Married at Whissendine on the 5th inst (by the Rev Appleton vicar) Mr Henman, farmer of Teigh to Sarah the eldest daughter of the late Mr G Fowler, school master of Langham and niece of Messrs W and S Fowler, farmers of the former place.
- Died at Langham on Saturday last Mrs Mary Smith, widow aged 87.
- Oct 20th The superiority of Rutland ploughing has been demonstrated in Derbyshire the first prize at the recent Northmolton Agricultural Meeting having been awarded to Wm Bellairs, formerly of Langham, whose skill as a ploughman when a resident in his native county was frequently the subject of admiration at the Cottesmore meetings. Bellairs is in the employ of Mr Rt Smith of Exmoor Devon (formerly of Burley near Oakham) and he ploughed with an implement made by Mr Bird of Casterton. In the course of a speech made by Mr Smith at the Northmolton anniversary he said experience had taught him that the Rutland plough would be found highly useful in that part of the country.

Nov 3rd

Warning to Threshers and Farm Servants. During the past week Mr Bellamy of Langham, Rutland, has sustained the severe loss of five young and valuable horses, from their having eaten of wheat out of a field-barn. That they should have access thereto may appear surprising; we therefore subjoin the man Berry's account of his having unfastened a door which leads directly into the field where the horses were. He and his son had been threshing and were on the point of leaving for the night, when a rat ran out from behind some sheaves of wheat and escaped through the door: it was followed, and on their return, the man states, he fastened the door; immediately after which a second rat appeared, and ran in the same direction as the former, and this also was followed. The man does not recollect who was the last to re-enter the barn (egress being from the opposite side), but he says that he closed the door and inadvertently left it unbarred; and we may add that no circumstance has yet transpired which would justify us in doubting his statement, however much we may blame his negligence.

Dec 1st

Feb 23rd

Langham – Joseph Cooper with one William Glen of Barleythorpe, entered the the Noel Arms Inn on Sunday night the 11th, and on being refused more drink, Cooper assaulted the landlord (Prideaux) and severely cut and bruised his head and one arm against the fire-grate; the medical attendant (Mr Dyer) pronounced him in danger for some days. Cooper was secured by the parish constable, who proceeded to hunt the immediate neighbourhood for a magistrate, but in vain; a wider cast was made, with cart and horse, chief constable of police etc. (a county expense!) and by night the ruffian was lodged in Oakham gaol: on the following Monday two acting magistrates attended, and finally committed him. Cooper has recently served a term in Leicester gaol for an assault upon a publican at Scalford; and he is one of those numerous “Rutland squatters” who have taken up their abode in the highways and by-ways with their horses, donkeys and dogs and share their neighbour’s property by right.

Disturbing a Congregation – On Saturday the 17th inst. Stephen Meadows, Wm Wigginton, John Watson and Chas. Thorpe were summoned before the magistrate at Oakham, for going into the parish church of Langham and wilfully disturbing the clergyman the parish clerk and the singers, by howling, imitating the crying of a child, whistling and making other noises. The evidence showed that about 15 persons went into the church for the express purpose of making these noises, and the four summoned were the worst behaved. The clergyman did not press the case; and the magistrate, after admonishing them, gave them a fortnight for paying the expenses, as they pleaded poverty. If the case had been pressed, each of the offenders must have found two sureties in £50, or gone to gaol till the quarter sessions. The Act has made the penalty in these cases £20, or imprisonment till it be paid. It is a pity the magistrates have no power to impose a smaller fine.

Mar 2nd

Great Northern Railway extended to Grantham making a faster route to London than via Stamford with consequent loss of Stamford’s business This loss attributed to the excessive demands of the Marquis of Exeter for £400 per acre for land not worth 1/5th this amount and building of a boundary park wall along his estate.

The Cottesmore hounds had a remarkably fine day's sport on Saturday last. The meet was at Langham and the first fox was found at Ranksborough after a smart burst he was killed at Little Dalby. The second fox was found at Cold Overton Park Wood, he went away at once for Lady Wood, then for Owston, to Launde, Robin-a-Tiptoe, touching on Tilton Wood on to Skeffington village, at the same top speed for Rolleston, away again for Noseley to Shankton Holt and the hounds ran into him at Ikston three gaters after a run of an hour and forty minutes which for good pace, good hunting and country (as was observed by two or three old sportsmen present) has not been equalled for some years. We understand that the present huntsman quite knows his business and gives much general satisfaction.

Jun 15th The opening of the Baptist Chapel at Langham on Thursday and Friday next is expected to prove very attractive. On each day the Hon and Rev Baptist Noel is announced to preach; the bazaar, containing more than a 1000 articles will doubtless produce much company on the Thursday.

Jun 15th Religious Intolerance - Last week the Rev H. Whitley, Curate of Kingston, refused to bury the corpse of a child, aged two years, named John Luntley, son of Mr. Luntley, High Street Hereford, because he had not been baptised. On the refusal of the Rev gentleman to read the service, the Rev G. Cozens, Baptist minister, who was present offered to give an address at the grave. Permission to do so was, as might be expected, refused by the Curate. "It does not matter" said Mr Cozens "I will stand outside the wall, and give an address". Leaving 'Consecrated ground', he thus went out of the churchyard and, the coffin being placed on the wall, gave the address from an adjoining field. The coffin was then taken to the grave, and the father, with unflinching voice, said "My dear boy, I commit thee to the ground in sure and certain hope of a resurrection to eternal life". And so he may the rites of "Christian burial" being refused not with standing. But here the question naturally arises, is this the law of the Church on the point. In reply to a letter on this subject in a similar case the Archbishop of Canterbury writes :- the Curate of your parish is obliged to bury with the usual forms the corpse of a dissenter, provided the church service be not objected to. Again not long since proceedings were taken in the Court of Arches against the Rev H Henslow Perpetual Curate of the Parish of Wormgay Norfolk who refused to bury the corpse of Sarah Bowden a parishioner who had not been baptised in the Established Church and the judgement pronounced in this case by Sir Hubert Jenner Fust was that the rev defendant be suspended from the ministry for three months.

Jun 22nd A portion of Prince Albert's Own Leicestershire Cavalry and the Rutland Militia had a 'field day' in Exton Park on Weds last on which occasion the Earl of Gainsborough's extensive grounds presented a very gay appearance. The cavalry were under the command of Viscount Campden and the militia of the Hon Hy. Noel. The day being extremely favourable, the park was visited by considerable numbers of persons from the surrounding district. During the afternoon the progress made in Military Tactics by the men was severely tested, and the manner in which they went through the various evolutions elicited the approval of the officers; and the spectators generally seemed to take great interest in the proceedings particularly when the cavalry and infantry engaged in mimic battles near a wood. The exercise terminated at 4 o'clock after which the cavalry proceeded to the village of Exton to partake of a dinner at the expense of Lord Campden. It would seem that several chargers which took part in the field practice had not seen much action because at the discharge of the firearms they escaped from their riders and made off to distant parts of the park. Several of the "regulars" on recruiting service appeared at the ground in the new military uniform.

Jun 29th The use of the Tread Wheel has been discontinued in the Lincoln City prison and such of the prisoners that know trades now work at their trades in their several cells. The earnings are carried to the credit of the prison so these prisoners now help to maintain themselves.

Jun 29th

The chapel recently erected at Langham as a village station of the Baptist church at Oakham was opened for division worship on Thursday June 21st and following days. Three sermons were preached by the Hon. and Rev. Baptist Noel on Thursday and Friday; the Rev. J. Jenkinson preached on Sunday afternoon; and the Rev. J. T. Brown of Northampton in the evening.

The prayer was offered on Thursday by the Revs. J. Green, T. Gammidge. T. Lomas and B. W. Noel. A public meeting (over which Richard Harris Esq. Mayor of Leicester presided) was held on Thursday evening and was addressed by the Chairman and also by the Rev. T. Lomas of Leicester, the Rev. J. N. Robjohn (independent) of Wymondham, the Rev. R. Broomfield (Wesleyan) of Oakham and others. A second public meeting was held on Friday evening at which addresses were delivered by the Rev. J. Jenkinson (chairman), the Rev. J. Salisbury, the Rev. T. M. Thorpe, the Rev. J. T. Brown and Messrs. Islip and Haymes. A bazaar in aid of the building fund was open on Thursday and Friday and public tea provided on both those days. The services were held in a large tent erected near the chapel. They were all numerously attended and deeply interesting. To the credit of the voluntary principle, the total receipts exceeded £138 in addition to nearly £150 previously contributed.

Jul 15th

Oakham County Court July 12th Before Sergeant Miller and a Jury.

Henry Hayes v John Henry Rudkin.

Plaintiff and defendant both reside in Langham, the former being also in the employ of Mr. Hauley, Merchant, of Oakham. The action was brought to recover damages for an assault committed on the 4th of April last when plaintiff had his leg broken from a fall caused by the defendant. Both parties are members of the Society of Nottingham Odd Fellows, held at the Noel Arms at Langham, of which society the plaintiff was and the defendant is secretary. The dispute arose upon the right of being admitted into the club room during "the making of a brother"; upon which occasion, for the purpose of expelling plaintiff, the defendant seized Hayes by the collar, threw him down, and thereby broke his leg. Apart from the serious result of the affair, much amusement was caused in court by the examination on the part of the defendant, of the "Royal Grand Imperial Highness, Father or Master" and other officials belonging to the society. After a Trial of three hours, the jury found a verdict for plaintiff, damages £20. Mr Atter appeared for the plaintiff and Mr Law for the defendant.

Aug 26th

Oakham - The annual meeting of the Commissioners for the letting by auction the tolls arising from the several gates from the first day of October next, for one year, at the Crown Inn Oakham. Richard Westbrook Baker in the chair the following were the lettings Stamford field Hambleton and Burley gates £326 being an advance over last year's letting of £96; the Cottesmore and Greetham gates were let for £120 being an advance of £50. These advanced resources of £96 enabled the Commissioners to order that 644 tons of Mountsorrel Granite be provided and deposited in the several parishes according to a table prepared on or before Sept 30th. The early harvest will afford ample time for the carting of materials upon roads before they become softened with the later rains and thereby prevent what was too frequently seen in the winter, heavy material carted over and spoiling one part of a road in order to mend the other.

Feb 1st

Death of Richard Westbrook Baker Esq. at his residence in Cottesmore on 30th Jan. For the lengthened period of 40 years this gentleman has been an occupier of land in the county of Rutland and during this period every solid improvement in agriculture has had his most earnest support and assistance. The system of small allotments for agricultural and other labouring poor has been rendered its greatest perfection in the county of Rutland where it was established 30 years ago by Mr. Baker. Descended from a family of considerable property in Newark in the 15c and about 1650 settled at Aylesbury, many became followers of Quaker (and imprisoned). William Baker MD, born 1721, married Miss Ann Leek whose son Richard, born 1762, was father of Richard Westbrook. Mr. Baker was Sheriff of Rutland in 1842.

Note on cost of Pauperism:

Increased cost compared to 1859 due to higher prices (though numbers reduced. E.g. wheat 45s 2½d per quarter in 1859, 55s 10d last year. Note contracted prices for Birmingham, Lambeth and Bury St. Edmunds - bread 4¾d & 5½d per 4lb loaf; flour 35s 9d & 42s 4d per sack; potatoes 83s 5d & 124s 11d per ton; Mutton and Beef 6s 5d & 7s 3½d per stone; cheese 6¾d & 7½d per lb; tea 2s 8d & 3s 2d per lb; sugar 4¾d & 5d per lb.

Report: A handsome silver inkstand was last week presented to Mrs. D.G. Freer of Langham House who has kindly presided at the organ for several years past at the parish church. The testimonial was confessedly on the part of the parishioners only a slight acknowledgement of the services she has rendered the church and of the gratification she afforded by her admirable playing upon the instrument, but there was a consciousness also that it would be received by the lady herself, not so much for its intrinsic value as for the feelings which prompted its presentation; and in this view they were not mistaken. The real reason was to acknowledge a grateful appreciation of Mrs. Freer's voluntary services and to show the esteem in which she herself is personally held throughout the village. The cheerfulness with which all subscribed showed how thoroughly the object of the testimonial was concurred in, and in the way which it was received by the lady herself proved the kind of value she at once set upon it.

Rutland Assizes. Misdemeanour at Oakham Eliza Sharpe, 17, servant, pleaded guilty of concealing the birth of her male illegitimate child on the 24th of November, and was sentenced to three weeks in prison.

The facts of the case are these:- On the 28th of March last some men were employed by Mr Keal, surgeon, of Oakham to clean out a privy vault and while they were doing so they discovered the body of a child. The circumstance was reported to the police and suspicion falling on the servant girls in Mr Keal's employ, they were examined but nothing could be ascertained, and both girls denied having been delivered of a child. The body was examined and it was believed the child had been in the vault for some time. From what afterwards transpired suspicion strongly attached to servant Sharpe, and she was further examined by Mr Turner, a surgeon of Oakham. The result was that he was quite confident that she had been the mother of a child. He told her of his opinion, and said "it was of no use her denying it, for it would answer no purpose, and would make the case no better for her". The girl then began to cry, and from questions put by the surgeon she admitted having been delivered about Martlemass, and put the infant down the vault. She said she never heard it cry, nor saw it move; and no marks were found on the body to indicate that it had been murdered. In passing sentence the Judge strongly condemned the way in which the confession had been drawn from the girl, and said that a conversation so extorted was not according to the law; he hoped the hint would be a warning for the future to the gentleman, who, no doubt, was not acquainted with the law.

At Langham on Friday last E. G. Baker Esq. gave a harvest festival to which all his employees (numbering 52) and several of the oldest inhabitants were invited, all of whom were regaled with a sumptuous repast of roast beef and plum pudding moistened with a copious supply of "nut brown ale" and other more costly beverages. Mr. Baker addressed his guests at some length, in very appropriate terms, on the blessings bestowed by Divine Providence in the late beautiful harvest, on the blessings of peace under a good Government, the duty of employers and the employed, and on other topics. A very happy evening was spent by all. The interesting proceedings were brought to a close by all joining in singing the national anthem.

Stamford Mercury 1862

- Jan 3rd Rutland. The Christmas Bounty of the Earl of Gainsboro' :-
His Lordship with the usual nobleness of character, which is beyond all praise, caused to be distributed by Mr Walton to the poor people and tradesmen of Exton on Christmas eve the second prize cow shown at Oakham cattle exhibition in class three and weighing 100 stones, a prize Scotch bullock of 50 st , 60 st of fine wheat flour, 300 lbs of plums and 100 gallons of the best ale from his Lordship's cellars. It was the noble Earl's wish that every poor person in Exton should have a good dinner of roast beef and plum pudding, the tradesmen had beef only. Lady Gainsboro' likewise gave away to every necessitous person blankets, bedding and clothing and in the winter months throughout the year to all the villagers soup twice a week. The same noble benefactress had distributed to the poor persons and widows of Langham, to the number of 42, a prime piece of beef and 3cwt of best hard coal. Other members of that good house gave the poor money, so that in every respect to the wants of this life they might enjoy the festive season.
- Mr Baker, of the Langham brewery, totally suspended business on Monday the 23rd Inst. On the occasion of the funeral of the Prince Consort. On the following day 65 families were supplied with a prime piece of beef for their Christmas dinner by his request
- Mr Lowther, of Barleythorpe, has this week given away to every poor person in the village a piece of beef or mutton, whichever they might prefer, of the best quality and in quantity according to the largeness of the family. Such generosity needs no comment.
